WATTSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

As we enrolled in the first grade, our main goal was to complete twleve years of school and graduate. It was quite some time before anyone thought beyond the day of graduation. In those twelve years, we had learned more about the world than we ever imagined was possible. This knowledge was given to us with the wonderful help and guidance of our teachers. Now we are prepared to venture on our own. We have been trained to go out, find employment, and make our own living.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the many teachers and our parents who have guided us through these twelve years so successfully.

As we publish this yearbook, "The Grail," we extend our sincerest thanks to the advertisers and patrons who have made the publication of this annual feasible. Their continued interest has made possible perpetuation of our memorable school days.

Special thanks also to our yearbook advisors who have helped us so much in preparing the yearbook.

This book shall always remain a pleasant reminder of our many happy days at W.H.S.

Class of 1959.

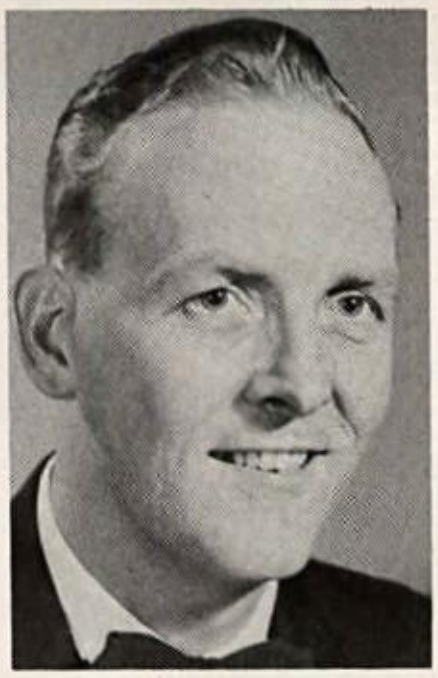
PLANNING FOR AFTER GRADUATION.

NOT YET!

P. T. A.



Mr. Robert Rosenberg, Pres.

The Wattsburg Area High School P.T.A. has as its president a very interesting personality, Mr. Robert Rosenberg. In our interview he discussed with us the objects and aims of P.T.A. organization, and the programs he hoped would be presented during his year as president.

The objects are:

(1) To promote the welfare of children and youth at home, school, church, and community.

(2) To raise the standards of home living.

(3) To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.

(4) To bring into closer relationship the home and the school, that teachers and parents may co-operate in training of the child.

(5) To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

At the first meeting in October an engaging and attractive program concerning Music Instruction in our Wattsburg Area Schools, elementary and secondary, was introduced. Interesting numbers were presented by Mr. Ralph Perkins and Miss Jean Wildermuth, our music instructors. Among the presentations was a demonstration class of pupils, who are members of the chorus, showing how music and choral work is taught in our schools.

The November meeting was a panel discussion on Guidance Counselling. Mr. John Brannon, guidance counsellor, acted as moderator. The panel consisted of four parents of high school students and four students--a discussion followed.

The program for the January meeting will stress the procedures followed in the procurement of teachers for the Wattsburg Area schools. Mr. Ralph Turley, supervising principal and Mr. Milton Bonney, high school principal will be the speakers. This will be followed by a question and answer period.

The March meeting will have as its program the story of our new area school and the proposed building program for our area. Those participating will be Mr. Robert Harwood, Mr. Milton Bonney, Mr. Ralph Turley, Mr. Robert Rosenberg and Mr. Herbert Miller. A question and answer period will follow.

The last meeting of the year will be held in May. The program will be a panel discussion of the duties and responsibilities of the school directors, secretary, supervising principal, principal and teachers. The following people have been invited to participate on the panel: Mr. Don Raun, area school board president; Mrs. Beatrice Kent, school board secretary; Mr. Ralph Turley, supervising principal and Mr. Milton Bonney, high school principal. A discussion period will follow.

A Founders Day Banquet for all P.T.A. members and friends of the entire area is being planned for February.

NURSE'S OFFICE

Everyday the nurse's office is a very busy place. Students come in to tell Mrs. Bisbee about all their aches and pains.

During the year Mrs. Bisbee gives health examinations, checks ears, weight and height of everyone in the school, plus checking on all who are ill, as well as frequently assisting pupils to their homes.

Mrs. Bisbee has to divide her time between the elementary school and the high school, which keeps her very busy, indeed. Without her W.A.H.S. would be a very unattended place.

Is it a cold?

Oh, my head!

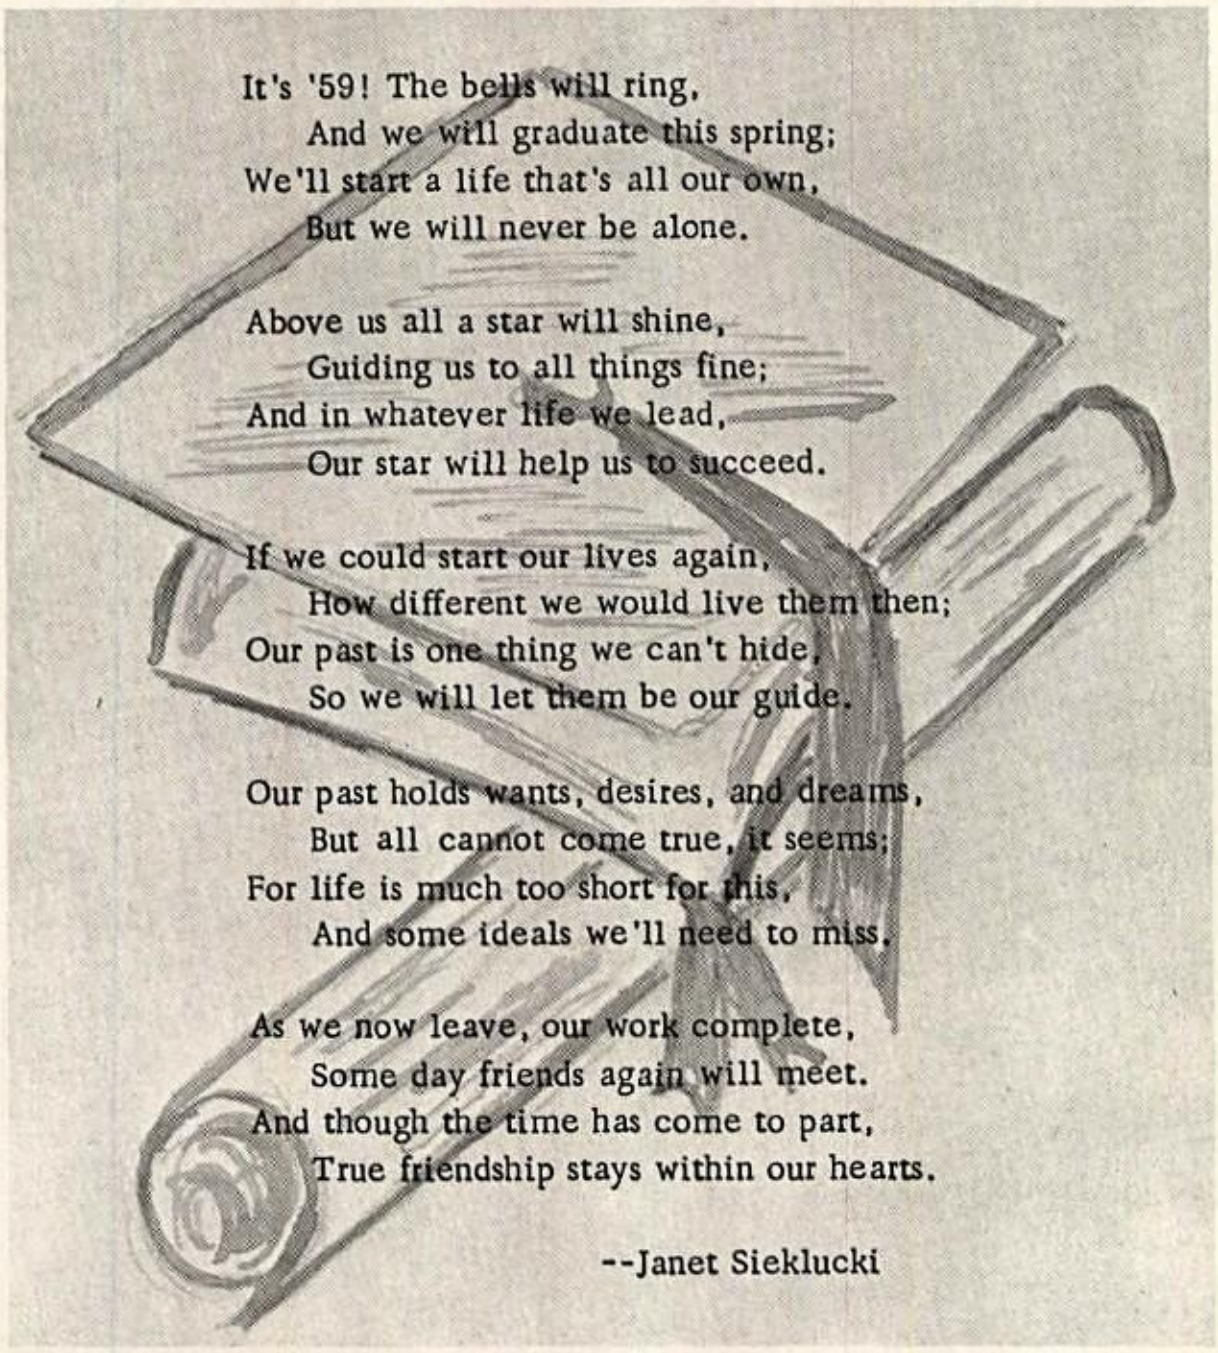
Class Poem



It's '59! The bells will ring,
And we will graduate this spring;
We'll start a life that's all our own,
But we will never be alone.

Above us all a star will shine,
Guiding us to all things fine;
And in whatever life we lead,
Our star will help us to succeed.

If we could start our lives again,
How different we would live them then;
Our past is one thing we can't hide,
So we will let them be our guide.

Our past holds wants, desires, and dreams,
But all cannot come true, it seems;
For life is much too short for this,
And some ideals we'll need to miss.

As we now leave, our work complete,
Some day friends again will meet.
And though the time has come to part,
True friendship stays within our hearts.

Class History

Four years ago a group of noisy, excited students began their high school careers at the Wattsburg High School. We shall begin at the bottom of a ladder representing our school days from our freshman year to the present. Since our future is merely a dream, we must pause at the rung in the ladder which will lead us into the future.

1955! It's time to look alive! Yes, we all gazed around the room which was to be our homeroom in a most anxious and expectant manner. We were all very interested in discovering if all our old friends were present, and very happy to know that most of them were there. Likewise, we detected very few new faces trying to adjust themselves to our anxiety of seeing each other again. Mr. Haney, was to be our class advisor for the year.

Finally, after becoming reacquainted, the class was called to order and proceeded with the election of officers. After seemingly hours of voting and nominations, James Stuntz became our beaming President; his fellow officers were Jean Oblinski, Vice Pres., Pat Coatoam, Sec'y, and Jo Duda, Treas.

During the year we debated over class activities, and ended the year by having a skating party, a hayride, and several candy sales. Our profits for the year were fairly small, but our friendships were great. There were only forty students in our freshman class, but our friendships were to increase considerably in the next few years.

1956 and a new school building brought us new classmates, giving our grade an enrollment of seventy, and three homerooms.

As we walked into the school on September 13, a cold day in September, for the first time, the heating system was not in operation, and we sat shivering in groups. Though sitting for hours with our jackets on was quite uncomfortable, one could find no better way of making friends! We had ample opportunity to meet our new friends during the regular class periods and class meetings.

We waited until we were at least partially acquainted with each other before we elected our class officers. During that time we became good friends with our homeroom teachers who were Mrs. Post, Mrs. Hosier, and Mr. Tonelli. When we finally decided that our grade needed officers in order to conduct class business, we chose Larry May, President; Gil Salisbury, Vice-Pres.; Chuck Karotka, Sec'y, and Neal Conn, Treas.

We were not too concerned in building up our class treasury, since we were too busy getting acquainted. However, with a dance or two, candy sales, and a hayride, we made a little money to add to our class funds started at the old school. We were all happy about the money, but much happier, at the end of the year, over the many, many new friendships which had helped us to enjoy our Sophomore year so much.

1957! The third rung in our ladder, our Junior year, brought us new experiences and much work, yet it was a fortunate one for us, because our treasury showed a respectable balance, which enabled us to accomplish many things. Mrs. Comstock and Mrs. Kosnosky were to be our advisors for this important year.

We chose our class officers early that year; Buzz Yost, Pres.; Eve Walter, Vice Pres.; Carol Liebau, Sec'y; and Neal Conn, (later replaced by Lynda Boarts) Treas.

At the beginning of the second semester, we were, indeed, a very happy group, for our class rings had arrived. How proudly we displayed them, parading and strutting about the room with ostentation and flourish. With the arrival of our rings, our impatience concerning them sudsided, and we were now ready to settle down to more serious business.

There were two great events for which it was necessary for us to plan. One was the Junior Prom, planned by the Junior Class to honor members of the graduating Senior Class. The other was our class play. Our Junior Class play, "Finders Creepers" was a marked success. Due to the expert direction of Mr. Narducci, the cast turned in a creditable performance. The play was well received and enjoyed by the capacity audiences. The cast included Chuck Karotka, Buzz Yost, Dean Shick, Merle Truesdail, Dave Heseltine, Bob Massing, Neal Conn, Bill Perry, Loretta Horn, Pat Coatoam, Ruth Delaforce, Mimi Sinn, Connie Bucklin, Jo Duda, and Audrey Brown.

Our most beautiful and captivating activity of the year, of course, was our Prom, for which the theme

"Rhapsody in Stardust" was chosen. The decorations harmonized perfectly with the theme. Our gym was decorated in pink, blue, and white hues, with a background of stars, and lilacs for our flowers. A wishing well occupied the center of the room, making our "rhapsody" complete. (But you should have seen that gymnasium the following morning!) That was when we wondered how so many hours of careful planning and work could be destroyed in a few short minutes. But it WAS fun!

We were proud that Dave Baker won a nation-wide scholarship during our Junior year; Dave Heseltine competed for and was awarded a scholarship in English; Jim Stuntz also received honorable mention for a scholarship.

1958! We have finally reached the last rung in our ladder. We are now Seniors in Wattsburg High, and proud of it!

We realized our last and senior year at school would be an extremely busy one. We, therefore, spent a great deal of time in serious thought and planning to achieve our aims. The election of an efficient corps of officers was the first business on our agenda. The following were elected to serve as officers during our senior year: Dennis Chesley, president; Jim Stuntz, vice-president; Betty Northrup, secretary; Marcia Jant, treasurer. Our class was also honored to have two of its members serve as officers of the Student Council, Dave Baker as president and Jo Duda as treasurer.

Our greatest activity this year, will, naturally, be the graduation exercises. However, we are eagerly looking forward to a delightful prom, which the junior class is sponsoring in our honor, and, of course, the Senior Banquet.

We have already sponsored two dances, and presented our successful Senior Class Play, "Calm Yourself," directed by Mr. Narducci. The cast included Dean Shick, Charles Karotka, Tom Lohse, Merle Truesdail, Jim Ross, Loretta Horn, Lynda Boarts, Pat Coatoam, Ruth Delaforce, and Connie Bucklin.

We began planning for graduation by having our Senior pictures taken and ordering our name cards, graduation announcements, etc. Our greatest task of the year, however, is the publication of our yearbook, a difficult yet enjoyable task for all people working on it.

During our high school days, our class has been fortunate in possessing a great deal of talent, academic, dramatic, and athletic. It is, therefore, with pride that we point to such as Jo Duda, queen of the FFA Festival; Lynda Boarts, Pat Coatoam, Loretta Horn, Ruth Delaforce, and Barb Kieklak as the vivacious cheerleaders at our games, and--Tom Burton, Dick Belding, Chuck Karotka, Russell Gorniak, members of the Varsity Basketball Team--to whom these cheers are directed.

Our future is in the offing, however, we all have our dreams of achieving our aims in our lifetime. Some of the dreams are fantastic; and others very realistic; while some have gone beyond the dreams stage.

Some will be serving Uncle Sam in the Armed Forces; others shall enroll at colleges; some will work in offices; while yet others will be married; and some may even be failures. Yet, whatever our fate, whatever our lot in life may be, we will remember that our training and preparation for the future began at Wattsburg High School. There will always be a feeling of tenderness and pride for our Alma Mater.

As we look forward in eager anticipation to receiving our diplomas and a happy future, we will leave you with but one thought:

We thank you all,
Advisors, friends,
For the helping hands
That you did lend
To us, the senior class.

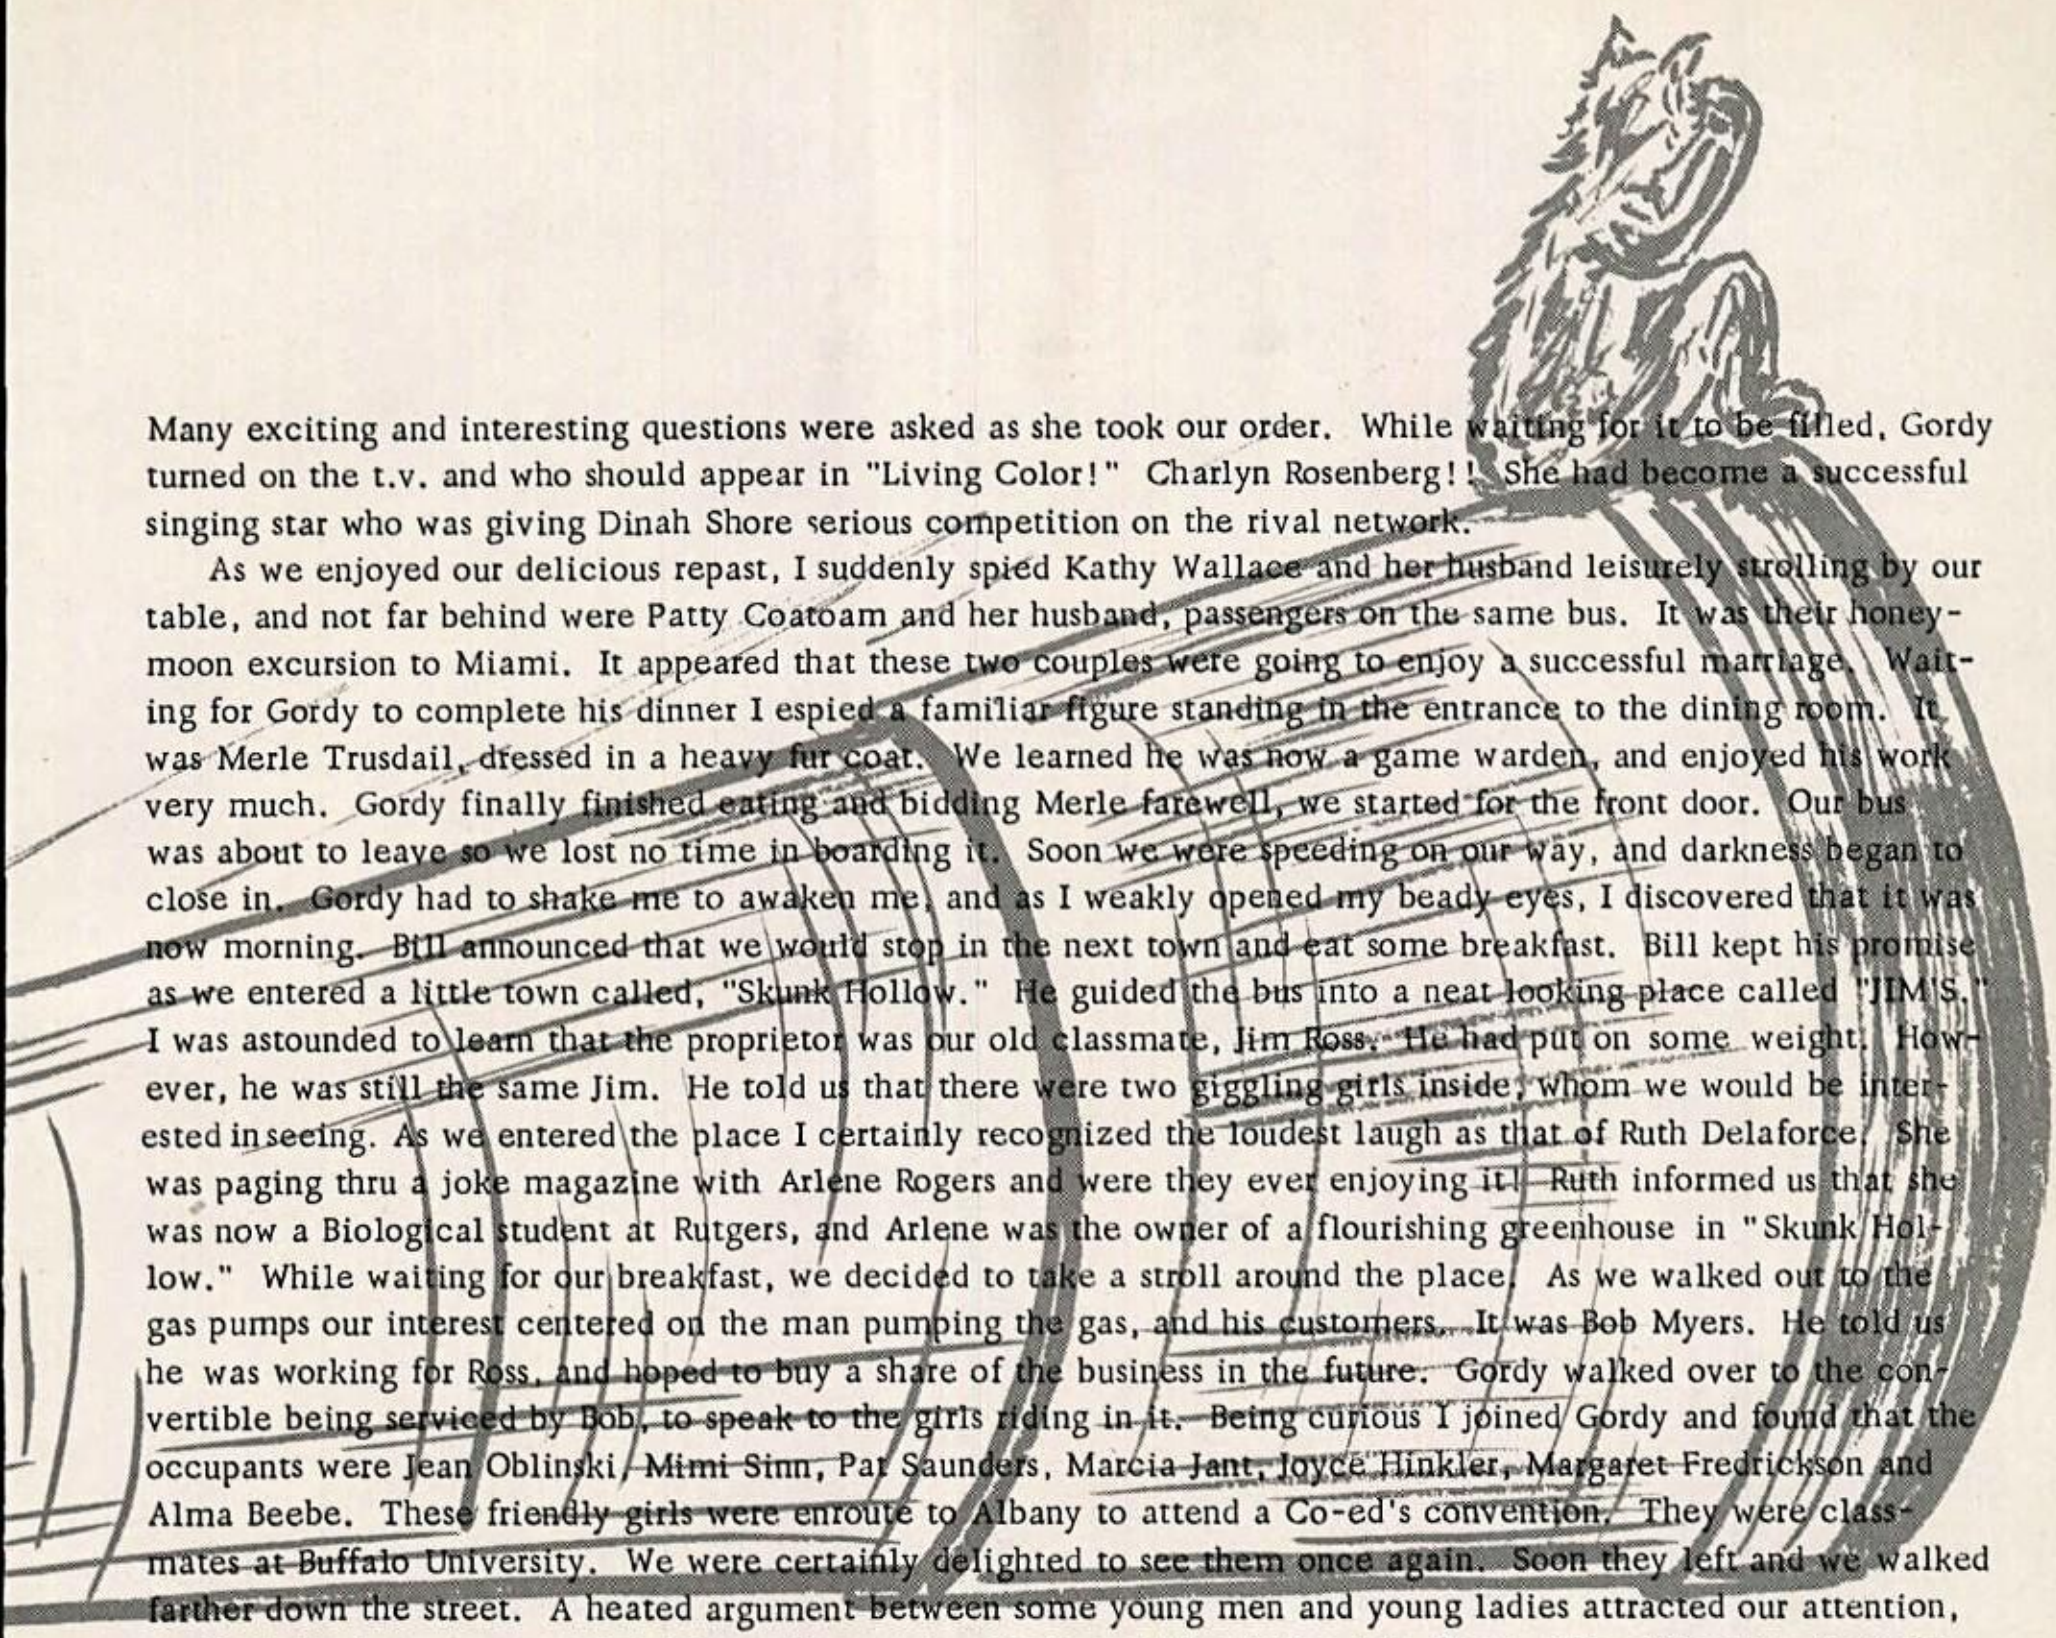
Class Prophecy

1959--Taxi, taxi! A yellow cab quickly responded to my loud requests and boarding the cab we directed the surly driver, none other than Jim Gregor, to drive us to the Bus Station. Automatically despositing a few coins in the meter, we were milling our way through heavy city traffic. Reaching into my overcoat pocket for the latest edition of the daily paper, the headline shocked me. "CHARLIE KAROTKA, TV WESTERN STAR TO APPEAR HERE." The column below it was stupendous. Imagine Camille Kownacki, Carol Chase, Carol Liebau, Sandra Bessetti, Barbara Kieklak, Betty Northrup and Betty Thaler as secretarial assistants to Charlie Karotka! My reading was interrupted by a sudden jolt that rocked the cab. Jim had attempted to run a red light, but when he saw two policemen standing at the curb, he thought it better to wait. I recognized both officers as Russ Gorniak and Dick Belding! As we waited for the light to change, Gordy burst out laughing. I laughed too, for there was Larry May and his wife Loretta having a healthy squabble over a hat in a fancy store window. At last we reached the Bus Station, and thanking Jim, we rushed toward the main entrance. We had just reached it, when Gordy nudged me and I glanced around to see Connie Bucklin, a press card in her hat, interviewing Dean Schick, now a successful Movie Producer. The ticket clerk, from whom we purchased our tickets for our fishing trip to Canada was Jane Zimmer. The voice of the "crier," we recognized as that of Dennis Chesley. As we waited for our bus to arrive, Gordy glanced down the corridor and spied a group of four young men in animated conversation. We were surprised that the members of this intelligent-looking group were our old friends, Dave Baker, Ronnie Burkell, Dave Heseltine and Bob Massing. We could hear Dave tell Jane that he and his comrades were all engineers for the "Brockley Chemical Corporation," and were on their way to supervise an engineering project in Denver. Apparently their bus had arrived, for they all rushed off toward the exit. The station sure was a busy place, and five fellows near us were kept busy loading and unloading luggage. They were our husky past buddies, Richard Waite, Gordie Blasco, Roger Roberts, Jim Whitman and Ernie Scott. Glancing at the clock over the information desk, I found we had five minutes remaining before our bus would arrive. Gordy went to the news counter to make some purchases. He informed me that Joan Holdsworth had waited on him and that Pat and Nancy Johnson were her "dishwashing" assistants. The "crier" was announcing the departure of our bus so we hurried to join the long line of boarding passengers. The ticket-taker was little John Fifer and he was being squashed by the taller waiting passengers. Gordy noticed two familiar figures hopping into their Chic Ford convertible. They were Jim Stuntz and Bill Perry who were heading for Cleveland to attend a ball game. He also told me not to be fooled by the "snazzy" car, for it was a "Hertz-Rent-A-Car." Chuckle, chuckle! As our line slowly moved forward, we were attracted by a crowd gathering near by. Two nurses were caring for a girl who had fainted. The two nurses were Lynda Boarts and Karen Tillman. The girl--Evelyn Walter! They were too busy reviving her to have time to speak to us. At long last we were seeking a seat in the somewhat crowded bus. With some difficulty I managed to secure a seat and turned to speak to Gordy, but he was still talking with the husky driver, whom I instantly recognized as Bill Herrmann. The threatening clouds finally burst forth unto a sudden downpour. Bill had started the engine and was about to move away from the platform, when a loud banging on the door caused him to halt. As the door swung open the young man who entered was none other than our friend Jack Rosenthal! Was he drenched! We offered to share our seat with him and he gladly accepted. During our conversation I learned that he was a successful insurance salesman.

Bill pushed the bus right along and several hours had elapsed before we realized it. The driver announced that we would stop for lunch at the next "post-house." I had to waken Gordy when we arrived at the place, and we stumbled out of the bus and headed toward the aroma of freshly brewed coffee. As we entered the dining room of the post-house a friendly doorman, who was to my surprise Tom Lohse, took our wraps. We picked our way through the tightly knit tables and seating ourselves, waited for the waitress. It was our good friend, Janet Sieklucki! She was excited to see us, and asked us many questions.



Many exciting and interesting questions were asked as she took our order. While waiting for it to be filled, Gordy turned on the t.v. and who should appear in "Living Color!" Charlyn Rosenberg!! She had become a successful singing star who was giving Dinah Shore serious competition on the rival network.

As we enjoyed our delicious repast, I suddenly spied Kathy Wallace and her husband leisurely strolling by our table, and not far behind were Patty Coatoam and her husband, passengers on the same bus. It was their honeymoon excursion to Miami. It appeared that these two couples were going to enjoy a successful marriage. Waiting for Gordy to complete his dinner I espied a familiar figure standing in the entrance to the dining room. It was Merle Trusdail, dressed in a heavy fur coat. We learned he was now a game warden, and enjoyed his work very much. Gordy finally finished eating and bidding Merle farewell, we started for the front door. Our bus was about to leave so we lost no time in boarding it. Soon we were speeding on our way, and darkness began to close in. Gordy had to shake me to awaken me, and as I weakly opened my beady eyes, I discovered that it was now morning. Bill announced that we would stop in the next town and eat some breakfast. Bill kept his promise as we entered a little town called, "Skunk Hollow." He guided the bus into a neat looking place called "JIM'S." I was astounded to learn that the proprietor was our old classmate, Jim Ross. He had put on some weight. However, he was still the same Jim. He told us that there were two giggling girls inside, whom we would be interested in seeing. As we entered the place I certainly recognized the loudest laugh as that of Ruth Delaforce. She was paging thru a joke magazine with Arlene Rogers and were they ever enjoying it! Ruth informed us that she was now a Biological student at Rutgers, and Arlene was the owner of a flourishing greenhouse in "Skunk Hollow." While waiting for our breakfast, we decided to take a stroll around the place. As we walked out to the gas pumps our interest centered on the man pumping the gas, and his customers. It was Bob Myers. He told us he was working for Ross, and hoped to buy a share of the business in the future. Gordy walked over to the convertible being serviced by Bob, to speak to the girls riding in it. Being curious I joined Gordy and found that the occupants were Jean Oblinski, Mimi Sinn, Pat Saunders, Marcia Jant, Joyce Hinkler, Margaret Fredrickson and Alma Beebe. These friendly girls were enroute to Albany to attend a Co-ed's convention. They were classmates at Buffalo University. We were certainly delighted to see them once again. Soon they left and we walked farther down the street. A heated argument between some young men and young ladies attracted our attention, particularly since we recognized the entire group. Gordy and I hurried to join them. The girls were: Jo Duda, Elaine Krasnesky, Audrey Brown, Choyce Ann Johnson, Janet Cotton, Joyce Coder and Janice Prince, while the male contenders were: Raymond Tanner, Curt Covington, Tom Schultz, Denny Spehar and Dale Chapman. Noticing our approach, Janice declared a brief intermission, and we exchanged surprised and friendly greetings. We found out that Janice was now a Lady Sales Executive for "Amalgamated Plastics of New York," and Jo Duda was her personal bookkeeper. Janice related to us all the positions our friends held. Elaine was now a waitress at the Cleveland Hotel, enjoying a short vacation. Choyce Ann, Audrey and Joyce were all Home Economics teachers and Janet Cotten was a housewife who was on her way to Albany to meet her husband employed as an out-of-town construction worker. Dale Chapman informed us that Curt and he were in the farm machinery business together and that Ray Tanner and Tom Schultz were their able assistants. Denny Spehar was a successful French teacher on his way to Buffalo to buy a wedding ring for Joanie. A longer visit with our friends was prevented by the arrival of their bus which they boarded. Two big words on the front read, "Albany-Buffalo," and away they went. Gordy glanced up the street and we could see that our bus was also loading, and we hurried, lest we be left. We had spent more time than we realized and had even missed our breakfast. Well, I wasn't hungry anyway, but Gordy sobfully stated that he was. I reminded him to dream about those luscious fish we would land in Canada. One thing we could depend on, however. The fish would never be any bigger than the tales we would probably tell on the way back.

EDITORIAL

The duties of an editorial staff are diversified, for it entails the execution of various phases of publication. The staff budgets its cost, lets contracts, plans the publication, chooses pictures that tell a story, prepares all layouts and copy, delivering all complete and assembled material to the printer on schedule. It is the task of the editor to supervise the work of the editorial staff, allotting to each their special and specific section planned beforehand. The task for successful completion requires the fullest co-operation and concerted effort of the entire staff. Much credit must be given our present staff for the wonderful work done in producing a book that will always remain a memento of their school days.

Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity boasts a fair record of eight wins and six losses so far for the season. They are performing very creditably under the capable and efficient coaching of Mr. Diffenbacher. Next year most of them will become members of the varsity. We feel certain that they will be one of the better teams representing Wattsburg.

Team Members are: Jerry Bliley, Phil Shinko, Tim Parmenter, Dan Orton, Harry Massing, Daryl Thornton, Dale Massing, John Haibach, Ron Applebee, Bill Gross.

J.V. CHEERLEADERS
BACK: Mary Ann; FRONT: Pat, Nancy, Carol, Ruth Ann, Sandy.

Junior High Basketball

This year's fighting Junior High had a fairly good season under the fine leadership of their coach, Mr. Robeson. They look very good on the basketball floor. The Junior High Team gives the boys of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades an opportunity to develop their skill and teamwork. These boys will be the stars of future varsity teams.

Team members are: J. Bucklin, W. Phillips, C. Tanner, D. Packo, C. Peterson, R. Graham, D. Smith, R. Moody, G. Orton, D. Chesley, A. Knapp, T. Combs, C. Van Epps.

Varsity Basketball

Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Basketball team played a fine brand of ball under the competent and able leadership of their coach, Mr. Diffenbacher. The team showed great skill and team work in all the games they played. At times they have exhibited flashes of brilliance and at others their lack of experience reflected itself in the number of missed goals. With all things considered, however, it was a very fine team.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders

During the year the Cheerleaders have done a fine job in arousing the enthusiasm and unity in the student body and encouraging the players to their best possible efforts. They added color and zest to the game and presented our school in a favorable light.

Our cheerleaders are chosen, always with the thought that they will be representing our school, and they will do nothing and say nothing that will cause people to have other than the best opinion of our students.

WRESTLING

Wrestling, added to the sports calendar two years ago, has been successfully promoted in Wattsburg under the astute coaching of Mr. Haney.

Despite the lack of experience and a dearth of wrestlers this year's team has made a very good showing.

TUMBLING TEAM

Tumbling as we call it is for the acrobats of our day. This sport develops arm, leg, and shoulder muscles and accurate muscular control. The sport demands expert co-ordination and team work since a late or a faulty grasp may mean many injuries. The coach who is an expert tumbler himself works tirelessly in keeping the boys in top condition. The team consists of J. Bucklin, C. Peterson, R. Rose, T. Combs, D. Myers, L. Yost, S. Flaugh, R. Horvath, J. Haibach, L. Haynes, D. Thornton, W. Yost, and Mr. Bob Diffenbacher--Coach.

CHORUS

Among the many organizations in which students find a true sense of cooperation, the chorus is at the top of the list.

The chorus meets only twice a week for a total of two hours, however, its fifty members are, during these sessions, the hardest working group of students in our school. We hope that in the future many students will find the opportunity to join Mixed Chorus for we have high hopes for our chorus in the future.
